An army of patriot heroes had been recently disbanded far from 1320 heir native homes, and many were still unseton the subject of a uniform rule of naturali-guage of each State shall be (&c.) c.tizens of the several States." That clause was a aweep-Americans into existence, and fixed their > sent Americans-the PEOPLE of the U. States. It may, perhaps, be objected to any bill like that proposed—what would be its binding force, should it become a law? Particular States might still, at their pleasure, (it may be said,) permit aliens to vote for all functionsnes, State and federal, immediately on coming, for the first time, within the threshold of the State.— The only auswer is-oaths registered in heaven, as on earth. If these cannot bind, then there is au end to all human society or government. The constitution of the United Sates, in the name of the whole people, commands-"This constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, &c .) shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judgea in every State shell be bound there be; saything in the constitution or laws of any State to the contrary not withstanding. Also, "The members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officera, shall be bound by oath or afficulation to support this constitution."-Art. VI, section 2 and 3.

But I have nottime for declamation or polish, and I have had but hitle to cite principles of press arguments. I have only written notes -Much support might be derived from the equal y ju fictious distribution of power over the mil tia between federal and State authorities. The malysis and application are left to abler hands. They will find that what required uniformity was given to one side; all that allowed to disconformity left to the other. The reasons were he same as in the case of citizenship

It is not probable that the proposed bill will have the good fitune to conclude the general avor of either native Americans on whi.s.—
The leading democrats will no doubt reject it as not support the measure. More cannot be at-tained, if more were desirable, without an al teration of the constitution; and even someare already more than satisfied with undue advantages. But the whigs are yet surely under unmerited defeat, and the natives flushed with the first truits of their young endeavors. The green tree waves its bracenes and the foliage of the breeze, and looks with the confidence of ping frost has ever seared its hopes. Yet this party stands on the "unsteadfast footing of a spear," or, at least, a parrow isthmus, which the first wave of success. The Louisville Journal quotes from two ty-eighth child a day or two since. sbolition papers a report of a speech made by Franklin Pierce, which is, of course, garbled, deep, with 6 feet of water in it, at Gettysburg, was in favor of the compromise and the fugi- jured: tive alsve law; and, second, that the fugitive slave law is not morally right, and that it is opfore garbled.

Scott might have made such statements .-Pierce never did; he has too much sense. Theditor of the Journal must give better authority, if he expects any one to believe him in this latitude. He need not come before the people of Kentucky with accounts of what Pierce said in abolition papers, when these very accounts are rapidly filling up, and the gay season has themselves snow the malignity of their writers already commenced, upon their face. On this whole subject we have Pierce's own words and his own actions; so we don't depend on abolitioniats for informa tion.
